Symphony Soloist Is Hofmann

Famous Pianist Will Be Heard In Concert.

By Chris Mathisen. OSEF HOFMANN, celebrated pianist, who this year is marking the fiftieth anniversary of his concert debut, will give his fiftieth performance with the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Or-chestra today, and radio listeners are to hear the virtuoso through WJSV, beginning at 3 o'clock. Mr. Hofmann appeared first with the Philharmonic Society on November 15, 1901, and, on January 8, 1905, he gave his initial performance with the New York Symphony Society. After the two orchestras were merged he was heard for the first time with the new organization on January 14, 1933. The composition in which he is to be featured today is Chopin's "Concerto No. 1 in E Minor." The program will open with the dances from Purcell's "The Fairy Queen." After intermission John Barbirolli will conduct the orchestra in Schubart's "Unfinished Symphony," the first radio performance of "Shepherd Fennel's Dance," by Balfour Gardiner, and Tschaikowski's "Theme and Variations, From Suite No. 3." Mr. Hofmann was born in Poland in 1876 and began a concert tour of this country in 1887, which was halted by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. He returned to Europe and studied under Urban, Moszkowski and Rubinstein.

Viennese Star In Wanger Film.

HEDY LAMARR, Viennese beauty and screen actress brought to Hollywood four months ago by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will make her American screen debut for Walter Wanger at United Artists studios. Having seen all of Miss Lamarr's European films. Mr. Wanger induced her studio to loan her for the new Charles Boyer drama tentatively titled "Algiers" and she will assume one of the two feminine leads in the production when it enters photography in April.

Miss Lamarr has jet black hair, large, expressive, dark eyes and an air of Continental sophistication and is regarded by Hollywood as one of the most glamorous actresses to come to the American screen in years. John Cromwwell will direct this new production which has Algiers as a locale and Pepe le Moko, romantic Parisian crook, as its central figure. James Cain is writing the screen play from the French film story by Detective Ashelbe and Julien Duvivier.
